Consumers of Ink,

The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has establish ed an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo.

And is prepared to sell as good Ink, as any made in any part of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 1-2 less than the same can be bought at any other houses.

People under the impression, that they pay their 320 rns. for a quart bottle of English Ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such, but I am not ashamed to put my own Name on the labels, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and chooses more virtues than most of the Inks.

I—It is of a very rich black at the moment when used;

II.—Retains its color.

III—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—A preserver of the eyes id those, who have much to write at night because they need not so force their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice generally entertained against Home Manufactire will be laid aside, and all I ask is, to give the same which will be a benefit to the buyer, and the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B.—Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and deliver ed free of any charges.

SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1863.

ELECTION OF GOVERNOR.

At 1.30 p m, the Provincial Senate assembled to instal the President of the Chamber. D. Manuel Ocampo took the usual oath on the Holy Evangelists, and then swore in the Vice president, Sr Benitez.

At 2.30, the Senators and Deputies met in general assembly to th nunber of 64, D. Norberto Riestra and Sr Ginaza being absent. The Secretary then read a note from the National Gov. begging the use of the Chamber for Congress until completion of the new building.

He then made a motion "that the Assembly declare it illegal to re elect a Governor," basing this thesis on a very cogent frame of logical argument.

Dr Ugarte and Snr. Buergo opposed, on the grounds that the motion would be equivalent to a law, while devoid of all proper formality, as also legislating for a subject not yet in existence.

Dr Varela asked if it would be proper to vote for an Englishman? on which Snr. Buergo replied that the question was closed.

Dr Ugarte taxed the opposition with entrapping Snr. Saavedra's friends at certain private conferences, and stating this motion in bad faith, not having raised the point, in previous deliberations.

The law was rather noisy and evidently in favor of Snr. Saavedra's supporters. The diplomatic box was thickly attended, but the Senatorial tribune were crowded with members of Congress.

After some desultory chit-chatting Dr. Varela's motion was put Ayes 19—Noes 45.

The Secretary then called on each member for his vote, as they severally answered consecutively in a clear voice, it was apparent Snr Saavedra had a majority.

The votes were as follows:

D. Mariano Saavedra	20
D. Martin Gainza	19
D. Norberto Riestra	3
D. Valentin Alsina	1
D. Manuel Ocampo	1
D. Francisco Carreras.	1

The result was then broken up, amid shouts of "Viva Saavedra" being given more as a matter of formality than enthusiasm. We are glad, however, of our defeat, as the election of Sr. Gainza would be the triumph of an extreme party and the proverb goes "Extremes are dangerous."

SPLENDID CONFLAGRATION.

No one can deny that Buenos Ayres is fast approaching the standard of the European progress, getting up fires on a large scale, and will vouch for the society. It is true we are rather behind most countries in water-supply; hence those fires threaten us with complete and destruction sooner or later.

On Friday evening, about 8 o'clock, the alarm was given that the New Al Market (La Plata) was afire, and people hurried hither and thither vainly calling for police, water carts, municipality &c. The flames were not to be missed, but no help! Meantime our friend, the Liverpool and London Insurance agent (Mr Geo. Wilke) in company with Mr Duval, inspector of machinery, and Mr. William Allinson, aided by their servants, came trotting up at a rapid pace with the fire-engine of Mr Wilke, which they dragged on foot, over half a league, in the short period of 25 minutes, from the Hueco de los Sauces.

Arriving on the ground, they found only Sig. Francischelli's engine, and a laudable rivalry ensued as to who should get there first. Mr Wilke's mounted his brigade and engine, under the orders of Mr Davis, on top of one corner of the market, playing on sundry premises. After some time 500 rodders were wrecked up, and a few ran in search of pots, buckets &c. Messrs Southern, Wilke, Davis, Allinson and a native gentleman from No. 19 calle Libertad, rendered valuable service, also the chief teller Wilson and seven foolish fellow folded up a pipe of aguardiente, intending to throw it on the flames but was apprized of his error in time.

The fire was strongest in the S.E. corner, and a high wind was blowing from that point, which carried the sparks and property N.W. of the fire. By 11 p.m. the flames were at their height, involving a large number of stalls, and illuminating the whole city with their glare. Roasted cocoa nuts were flying about like bomb-shells, and a number of cardinal birds, roose hall birds, and parrots, took to the air, joining windows or sheltered themselves in the pockets of the by standers.

At 11 p.m. the N. end of our city has been deprived of this very convenient market-place, which is now a shapeless ruin. The damage sustained must be put down at 50,000 thousand dollars, which has been without exception the greatest fire seen in the R. Plate, for many years. The assistance given by many estable foreigners and natives was exemplary, but the water-venders were not to be found, when most wanted. People talked of £20 would have provided the late market with a handy engine such as that of Mr. Wilks, who is most willing. we are sure, to submit the same to the inspection of the municipal gentlemen anxious to test it, on his hospitable premises, calle Santiago 1.

It is to be regretted that there is no organization of water-men, whereby the Commissaries at a moment's notice could gather a sufficient supply to extinguish a fire at once. On Friday at 8 p.m. the water-men had already gone home with their carts empty and no one in the fire could not be got under in the beginning, with the county supply from cisterns.

DIPLOMATIC PROTESTS.

We understand that a grave difficulty has sprung up between France and this republic. Some French sailors of the Pulminante, while their vessel was repairing at the Tigre, having drunk rather freely, got into a row; three were arrested, and brought prisoners to the capital. This was all fair enough; but they were further obliged, as the story goes, to sweep the streets in French uniform. The absence of the native papers seems to confirm the popular rumor, and we learn as energetic protest upon a note sent by Mr Hidalgo Tellez, Minister of the Marine, to Mr Varela as Argentine agent: he was not, we understand, the only foreign representative who had reason to complain of those letters of marque, and we trust that they will so seriously hurt the national susceptibilities of most of our industrious and enterprising European residents.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The old story again. Terrific fire and no water. On Friday night, a disastrous conflagration occurred at the Public Market in calle Cangallo, known as "Mercado del Plata." It originated in an Apothecary's shop, and but for the incombustible materials of the market building itself, the whole place would have been consumed. Of course the owners of the market have in hand the rebuilding of the same on more modern principles in order to avoid the agencies in this city. The whole of the loss will probably fall upon the insurance companies, as the value of the building is burnt down, and all the glass and iron work will be saved, yet heard at what the loss is estimate! Our friend Mr. Cazan was greatly put about during the conflagration. Water was the thing he wanted most, and he stand taut it is the intention of his worship to summon up the municipality, and call them to account for leaving the city so long without a water supply. We are told that one of our municipal city authorities was heard to exclaim in a fit of honest indignation, "Here I am running about like an Italian waterman, with an empty bucket each hand, whilst these municipals are probably dancing with pretty girls in the Progreso ball room". The lyre slanders felt for the poor old man, and gave us the entire opinion that it was not by a back case.

Is he landed? Has he arrived, or what has become of him? were the great questions about town yesterday. Many parties, of course, inquired who the "him" was. Some thought Flores, others London, whilst a few, viewers limited Inquiry. The noon of the day is General Ferré, the senator for Corrientes, who, despising steamboats, etc., embarked in a light boat, some 15 days ago, bound for Buenos Ayres. It would appear the wind has been taken out of her sails, or some such thing occurred, as the Correntino senator is still "aguas arriba." Meanwhile, Congress cannot meet until the General arrive, as there is no quorum. The saying about town now is—" He is coming and so is Ferré."

The Progreso ball held out until last past yesterday morning, to the no some misunderstanding. we hear that some of the very subscribers to the ball did not attend. Complaints are too common on the subject; but we dislike meddling with the matter. Naturally jolly ourselves, we like to see people amusing themselves. Although we have attacked, we never we have no anxiety to get into a dispute with all the belles of town.

The Government Railway must be a rather lucrative concern at present, since, according to Mr Raedo's report, it is doing a splendid business—all receipts, no outlay. Our attention has been drawn to the upper by gentleman who pretends to know something of railways, but professes utter ignorance of such xampillaroso nation railway report as that which Mr Raedo has published.

The news from Uruguay is rather a cooler on Flores' friends. Salts report sale and nothing of £20 would have provided the late market with a handy engine such as that of Mr. Wilks, who is most willing. we are sure, to submit the same to the inspection of the municipal gentlemen anxious to test it, on his hospitable premises, calle Santiago 1.

It is to be regretted that there is no organization of water-men, whereby the Commissaries at a moment's notice could gather a sufficient supply to extinguish a fire at once. On Friday at 8 p.m. the water-men had already gone home with their carts empty and no one in the fire could not be got under in the beginning, with the county supply from cisterns.

MR WHEELWRIGHT'S SPEECH.

We publish the following important speech of Mr Wheelright, delivered at the inauguration of the Great Central Argentine Railway, on the 20th April 1863:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

Permit me to offer you all my felicitations on the happy event which has assembled us here to-day—the inauguration of the Grand Central Argentine Railway.

His Excellency, the President of the Republic has raised the first sod—the commencement of this great work: new ers has been added to the future history of this country, and new life will be imparted to these hitherto isolated provinces.

The Grand Central Argentine Railroad will occupy the most central position in the provinces which could have been selected, and combines with admirable facility all the essential and important points of interest which are necessary to guide to the excellent report of Allan Campbell Esq., who surveyed and laid down the line.

Leaving Rosario, the Railroad will pass over sections of the provinces of Sta. Fe and Cordoba, with those of Buenos Ayres, Mendoza, San Juan and San Luis on the South; and on the North, Santiago del Estero, Catamarca, Rioja, Tucuman, Salta, and Jujuy, the high roads of every province concentrating upon the line either at Cordoba, Villa Nueva, or Punta Morada thus combining all the traffic of this vast territory.

For the present, gentlemen, all our united efforts must be directed exclusively to the realization of the Railroad from the point we now occupy to the city of Cordoba, passing over a continuous plain of 247 miles upon the result of this undertaking will depend its extension through the provinces and its final termination on the shores of the Pacific.

Rosario, situated on the banks of the River Parana, equi-distant from Cordoba and Buenos Ayres, and in nearly a direct line from each other, possesses the advantage of a good harbour Upon a river navigated by hundreds of sailing vessels and steamers, and numerous rivers that penetrate the waters of the Paraguay and Vermejo to Oran, and the distant town of Cuyaba, in the provinces of Brazil.

To render more complete the inter course between the Parana and Uruguay, the Government of the Argentine Republic proposes to unite them by a railroad across the province of Entre Rios, and the Emperor of Brazil has a corps of Engineers employed surveying a line from Rio de Janeiro to connect with the navigable waters of the Parana.

After an interval of forty one years it has been my good fortune to revisit Buenos Ayres; the change I have witnessed has surpassed my most sanguine hopes. Instead of a gloomy and apparently decaying city containing less than 40,000 inhabitants, I found a population of 180,000, instead of a dozen ships in the outer anchorage, I counted more than 150 and an equal or greater number at the inner moorings, instead of an impracticable streets filled with "ranchos," I found commodious pavements instead of decaying houses elegant dwellings. Examples I saw a city of palaces, magnificent churches and public buildings, presenting every sign of affluence and prosperity.

But what interests us most, is the period in which these changes have taken place, namely, the last seventeen years, from the time when the navigation of these beautiful Rivers was declared open to the commerce of the world; this is to be found to those whence has sprung this extraordinary development of wealth and prosperity, and history will do justice to the men who, by the abolition of "monopoly—opened the seals of these vast streams, and ratified the act, by treaties, with Great Britain, France and the United States "for all time." My object, gentlemen, in detaining you for a moment longer, is to call your attention to some considerations which will satisfy the most sceptical, existing, the inauguration of the Grand Central Argentine Railroad—the commencement of which we celebrate to-day propitious in future promise to the hundreds of thousands who occupy in twenty number these immense plains; it is the establishment of a peaceful movement dedicated to industry, to agricultural and pastoral pursuits and the regeneration of the provinces, which will satisfy the wants of the most distant population, spread over this Ocean of land, to convey to them the merchandizes of the world in exchange for their products; to unbosom the rich treasures of mineral wealth, which have been so long hopelessly buried in the earth, to give life to dissentions, and to knowledge, education and refinement, and all the blessings of local happiness among the masses and thus attach to them the value of property, and respect for the laws, and institutions of Government.

Although only collateral with our immediate object on this interesting occasion, permit me a few observations on the future of this vast enterprise.

When we have once proved the value of capital to be employed in the present railway will yield an ample return, of confidence is thus established, capital there cannot be one doubt, all difficulty as to its extension will cease. From Cordova it will proceed north, probably to Chanar, Hampeon—a short line to Catamarca—from thence to Rioja and Cosnadama, at the foot of the Andes, a distance of 700 miles; from Cordova it will commence its ascent climbing up the side of the eastern slope of the Cordillera to the pass of Uspallata, at an elevation of 16,023 feet above the sea, where it culminates, and descends the western slope to the valley of Copiapo and Calderas, on the Pacific already defined and declared practicable.

It is not a matter of surprise, gentlemen, that a country so rich in mineral wealth can be looked upon with confidence by many: it is purely a question of time, however, it will be real ized. As between Europe and Australia, that to be vast Empire of the West. It will strengthen the South American republics, and unite them to concentrate against invasion

Europe is also deeply interested in this great work—England, always anxious to draw into contact with her the most remote part of the earth, has long entertained the project of uniting the Atlantic with the Pacific by a railroad. Admiral Robert Fitz Roy (a name familiar as a household word in all South America) as not only navigated the Straits, but has surveyed it will become the great highway between Great Britain, New Zealand, and New Holland.

Pardon, gentlemen, allow me to add that while Providence continues to spare me life and health, all my energies shall be devoted to this enterprise—a work upon which has already occupied nine years of my life, and which has been crowned to-day with the inauguration.

M. LANGIEWICZ.

A Silesian paper gives some particulars of the Polish leader Langiewicz, and vouches for their correctness:—

"Marian Langiewicz, a native of the Grand Duchy of Posen, is the son of physician, and was educated at the University of Breslau, whence he went to that of Prague, in order to devote himself, under the guidance of Professor Czolakowsky, to the study of the Sclavonian languages. After a few months he returned to Breslau, where he study mathematics and subsequently accepted a very advantageously situation as tutor in the family of M. —, a Polish landed proprietor. Two years later he returned to Breslau to complete his studies, and then went to Berlin, where he served his year in the Artillery. After that he went to Paris and to Italy, made the campaign of Sicily and Naples under Garibaldi, and at its cessation, was appointed one of the instructors at the Polish Military School at Genoa. He is of small stature, and 34 years of age. His elder brother practices as a physician at Wittowo, in the Grand Duchy of Posen."

POLAND.

The Presse of Vienna says that news from Lithuania states that the insurrection is extending more and more there. In that country, where the whole of the population, amounting to five millions, is oppressed by force to the Russo Greek schism. and obliged to conform to it externally, while it has always remained Catholic at heart, the struggle has readily assumed a religious character. Persecutions have already begun, and in the village of Dziditz near Wilna, in the district, a Catholic Priest was murdered at the altar, while leaving Mass, by Russian sbirres, who plundered the church and profaned the Blessed Sacrament.

A private letter from Warsaw, dated the 14th March, and published by the Monde, states that the Russian Government, as Count Sieckiski, and was sarate to M. Radzi-zewski, Parish Priest of Orla kowiec, and Archdeacon of Bielzyski. M. Sielckiski, was expelling the Cossacks, who had already forced open the tabernacle in which the Blessed Sacrament was contained, when his wife begged him, after having had his hand lopped off.

Stalowiczyke, March 17th

An important engagement between the insurgents and the Russian troops took place yesterday at Lora lek, three miles from Kolisch. The latter were compelled to retreat, and the town was reduced to ashes The number of insurgents concerned in the battle amounted to 2,000 men. Reinforcements were sent this morning from Kalisch to the Russians.

Berlin, March 18th

Private letters received here from Warsaw state that the Grand Duke Constantine has in consequence of a council of war, given up his idea of proceeding to the theatre of war.

Leuberg, March 18th.

Count Skarzynski, Marshal of the Polish asbility, has tendered his resignation. Governor Nazimoff has ordered the arrest of three hundred landowners in Lithuania The insurgents have been victorious over the Russian troops at Radnika, in the Government of Mohilew.

Warsaw, March 18.

According to reliable information, the insurgents near Lewandajski, defeated the Russians on the 15th instant near Brezuka, and captured two guns. Another body of insurgents under Lefewel were also victorious near Wlodawa, on the 17th instant, in which engagement the Russians sustained a further defeat near Ratajl, although in considerable force on either place.

Cracow, March 14.

General Langiewicz's vanguard is within a short distance of Miechow. Skirmishes with the Russian took place yesterday in the immediate neighbourhood The Russian troops near Olkusz, Wolbrom, and Pilzchow, have received reinforcements. Co siderable bodies of insurgent are posted at Kosienice, under the command of Miekeski, and at Olkusz, a regiment Colonel by General Langiewicz.

Lemberg, March 14.

The greater part of the forces of Langiewicz are posted near Miechow, where engagements between the Russian and Polish vanguards took place yesterday. The insurrection is gaining ground in the Government of Podolia. It is asserted that insurrection has broken out in Podolia, and that several thousand insurgents are posted near Bar.

Thorn, March 13.

Langiewicz was yesterday proclaimed Dictator of Poland by the revolutionary party at Warsaw. Last Monday the insurgents defeated the Russians commanded by the General of Colonel Gall, near Myszezow, in the Government of Plock. The Russians had 100 killed.

Paris, March 14.

The "Monitour" of this morning, after alluding in its bulletin to the contradictory despatches respecting the resignations of the Polish Councillors of state, says:—" Positive information permits us to state that the Archbishop of Warsaw is among the number of the members who have tendered their resignation."

Breslau, March 17.

News received here from Warsaw states that the Warsaw post office authorities notified yesterday that the express trains on the Warsaw and Vienna line ceased running from that day.

Cracow, March 17.

The head-quarters of the Dictator, General Langiewicz were yesterday established at Miechow. The Russians have sacked and plundered Alexkowice. Measures have been committed at Gielnica and Gralow. At the latter place, Mr. Finkenstone, cornmerchant, and a British subject, was robbed and seriously wounded. A proclamation of the central committee of Warsaw confirm full powers upon Langiewicz as Dictator of Poland. A number of Russian insurgents, about 1,0 0 men, has been organized in the districts lying to the south of Lublin. They are well armed, and have proclaimed a National Government in several places.

IRELAND.

A meeting of some thousands of people was held at Skibbereen in the county of Cork, in the open air to express sympathy with Poland. They were, 140 in number, armed with Enfield rifles, came to the spot under the command of the stipendiary magistrate, and were accompanied by the landlords who read the Riot Act, and ordered the people to disperse. There was not the slightest breach of the peace. The assemblage complained of there being a red flag and some other party emblems. These were at once withdrawn; the people were then ordered to disperse. The whole have since published a protest against this illegal interference with their rights."

Ladies E. Krause sets teeth by a new invention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. It accommodates itself to the gums and palate much better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speaking, and lasts a life time.

My collection of artificial teeth is very fine, and cannot be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.

I have a number of instruments for extracting roots of teeth, also for stuffing the same with gold, silver, &c, which I guarantee for a number of years.
